STATEMENTS OF TAXES PUT IN MAILS TODAY

Collection of Taxes in Lee Co. Will Start On Wednesday

County Treasurer Dorrance S. Thompson mailed out the 1929 tax statements this afternoon. 1929 State tax rate is nine cents higher than 1928, the increase being on general revenue fund and distributive school fund. The 1928 state tax rate was thirty cents per one hundred dollar assessed valuation while the 1929 state tax rate is thirty-nine cents per hundred dollar assessed valuation. On a $5,000 home which is assessed for taxation at 40 per cent of its actual value or $2,000 assessed valuation this increase amounts to $1.80 in state tax.

County Tax Rate Lower
The 1929 County Tax rate is 1 4-10 cents lower than the 1928 tax rate. The 1928 county tax rate was forty-nine and nine tenths cents per hundred dollar assessed value while the 1929 county tax rate is forty-eight and five tenths cents per hundred dollar assessed valuation.

Non High School Rate Higher
The 1929 non-high school tax rate is nine and two tenths cents higher than the 1928 rate.

The non-high school tax rate for 1929 is thirty-seven cents per one hundred dollar assessed valuation while the 1928 rate for non-high school tax was twenty-seven and eight tenths cents per one hundred dollar assessed valuation. The increase of tax on a farm with a $8,000 taxable valuation would amount to $7.36 over the 1928 non-high school tax. The 1928 tax for non-high school on a farm of $8,000 valuation was $22.24 while the 1929 tax for non-high school is $29.60.

The non-high school tax applies to all property that is located in a school district that does not have a four year high school course of study. The districts not included in the non-high school territory are Dixon, Amboy, Lee Center, Paw Paw, Franklin Grove and Ashton. These districts maintain a four year high school course of study in their schools and are not in the non-high school territory therefore a non-high school tax is not levied against any property that is located in a township or community high school district.

A non-high school tax is levied for the purpose of paying the tuition of a student residing in a non-high school district that wishes to attend school in a district teaching a four year high school course of study. Any student living within a district which teaches a four year high school course of study must attend school in that district and is not entitled to attend some other school, but a non high school student which is entitled to attend some school teaching a four year high school course of study may attend any high school within the State.

City Tax Rates
Tax rates within the city of Dixon are nine and seven tenths higher than 1928.

The increase in taxes in the City of Dixon is due principally to the state tax. The state tax being nine cents higher than last year. The county tax is one and four tenths cents lower than last year.

This applies to all property in the county whether it is located in a city, village, or farm lands. The following table shows the 1929 tax compared with the 1928 tax on property in the city of Dixon on a home assessed a $2,000 assessed valuation.

1928	1929
State Tax	$ 6.00
County Tax	9.98

The increase is $1.95 of which $1.80 is in the state tax.

SHERIFF DENIES RECEIVING ANY DEATH THREATS

Northern Illinois Cities Hear Miller Has Been "Knocked Off"

Sheriff Ward Miller today denied rumors that have gained wide circulation throughout northern Illinois to the effect that his life had been threatened because of his enforcement of the prohibition law in Lee county and his continued drive on alcohol runners. From LaSalle and other northern Illinois cities inquiries reached Dixon late yesterday about reported threats upon the Lee county sheriff's life.

From LaSalle it was reported that Sheriff Miller had received an anonymous letter in which he was advised to settle up the business of his office by April 1 and resign as Sheriff under a penalty of being "knocked off." This rumor was said to have come from an authentic source and had reached the office of LaSalle county newspaper. Within an hour another long distance telephone message was received by The Telegraph stating it had been reported in Savannah that Sheriff Miller's life had been taken.

Activity against alcohol runners through Lee county was attributed in both reports. Sheriff Miller arrived home late last night from New York and is in his office today and denied receipt of any anonymous communications threatening his life or ordering his resignation.

"I have received no threatening letters from any source," the Sheriff said. "Practically every mail brings my office as well as to the State's Attorney's office, complaints of alleged violations, but there have been none of a threatening nature. There will be no let up on the alcohol runners in Lee county either."

Last week a rumor gained circulation locally to the effect that Sheriff Miller's life had been threatened by a foreign element alleged to be active in the alcohol traffic through the east end of Lee county, where several loads have fallen into the hands of the sheriff's forces.

Merger Two Big Steel Companies Is Blocked

Cleveland, Mar. 11.—(AP)—Merger of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation is impossible at the present time, leading figures in the merger negotiations said today.

Leading stockholders of the Youngstown concern said the votes of more than 500,000 shares of stock are opposed to the proposed Bethlehem deal which has been under consideration at least several days. There are 1,200,000 shares in the company and the consent of two-thirds of them would be necessary to approve a consolidation, according to the company's charter.

Despite the known facts that there are sufficient votes aligned to block the merger, many of the leading figures of the steel industry were to meet here today to consider the project and the relationship of conflicting interests.

Modern Wm. Tell's Act Ends Seriously

LaPorte, Ind., Mar. 11.—(AP)—A backyard William Tell act with a few modern trimmings ended yesterday not in applause, but in shrieks and groans.

Leland Day, 15, had been his chum, Harry Mandeville, 14, knock can after can off a fence post with his small calibre rifle. Young Mandeville's average had so far been perfect, so Leland placed a can on top of his head and shouted:

Harry fired, and his chum slumped to the ground, the bullet lodged in his head. Leland is in the hospital.

INSPIRATION OF TAFT'S LIFE FOR BOY SCOUT WORK

Cited By President Last Evening At Address in Washington

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—William Howard Taft's solicitude for youth and children is seen by President Hoover as urging on the Boy Scout movement and instrumentalities working for the betterment of the boys and girls of the land.

On the eve of the funeral of the first honorary president of the Boy Scouts, the Chief Executive last night departed from a prepared address before the banquet signaling the twentieth anniversary of the Scout movement to eulogize the late former President and Chief Justice.

"We meet this evening," President Hoover said, "under a cloud of deep sadness. Since many of you started your journey to Washington the most beloved of Americans had passed into the Great Beyond, and in determining not to cancel this occasion your committee has acted in the spirit of William Howard Taft. With a lifelong, open hearted devotion to boys, the first honorary president of the Boy Scouts would, had he known of it, insisted that your work should go forward."

This occasion commemorates the twentieth anniversary of the Boy Scouts, and it is indeed in keeping with the true tribute to his great spirit whose name graced your first anniversary."

Priceless Possession
The boy, with his sister, the President said, is the most precious possession of the American home, "the problem of our times and the hope of the nation."

Termining the Boy Scout movement one by which parents in a period of complex civilization might solve the problem of filling the leisure time of their sons. Mr. Hoover advised that the boy's leisure time should be given to directing his interests to constructive joy instead of destructive vice.

Scout work, the President said, opened the portals of adventure for the boy, taught him the joys of nature, the value of discipline, sportsmanship and the democracy of play.

To the traditional three R's of American school days—Reading, Riting and Rithmetic—President Hoover added a fourth. This "R" he said, is for Responsibility—"responsibility to the community—if we are not to have illiteracy in government."

"The conviction that every person in the republic owes a service to the republic," the Chief Executive said, "that the Republic rests solely upon the willingness of every one born in it to bear his part of the duties and obligations of citizenship is as important as the ability to read and write—that is the only patriotism of peace."

Texas House Votes Chain Store Tax

BANDIT STEALS THREE CARS IN THIS VICINITY

Proceeds Westward In Relays In Borrowed Machines

A lone bandit, who apparently was in great haste to depart from the central west, is believed to have stolen not less than three automobiles in this locality last night between 6:30 and midnight. Charles Crombie had parked his Ford sedan in front of his place of business on East First street and about 8:30 discovered that it had been stolen. He reported the theft to the police at once.

Chief Van Bibber telephoned a description of the car to several northern Illinois cities and included Clinton, Iowa, in the list. Officers were dispatched to the Iowa side of the Mississippi high bridge. Shortly before 11 o'clock a call was received from Clinton stating that the car with a lone man driving, had driven by the toll gate and officers on the Iowa side and sped westward through Lyons.

A few minutes afterward a telephone call from Night Marshall William Weber at Rochelle, reported the theft of a car belonging to Mark D. Smith, Jr., Dixon man, who is employed in a Rochelle bank. This car was found abandoned, the lights burning and parked on the west side of Hennepin avenue between Second and Third streets. At 1:15 this morning, Chief Van Bibber received a call from the Clinton police, stating that the Crombie car had been abandoned at Charlotte, north of Lyons, Iowa, where the bandit had stolen a Chevrolet which was parked on the streets and continued his western trip.

THREE GANGSTERS BOAST OF THEIR WEALTH TO STEGE

Gathered To Mourn At Funeral Of Dingbat Oberta Monday

Chicago, March 11.—(AP)—Three gang leaders boasted of their "big business" ventures to Chief of Detectives John Stege yesterday.

First there was Joe Salis known for years as the beer baron of the south side, who came down from his Wisconsin country place to attend the funeral today of his friend and henchman, John (Dingbat) Oberta, slain on a gang ride last week.

Between his tearful pleas to the Detective Chief to "call off the Cops" while he attended the last rites of his friend, Salis found time to tell the Chief and reporters of his $100,000 country place in Wisconsin "with a golf course and a clubhouse to accommodate 28 people."

Stege promised Salis he would not be molested if he returned to Wisconsin immediately after the funeral, and "Big Joe" went out to the Oberta home to sit around his pal's 15-coffin at the wake.

Then there was George (Bugs) Moran, north side successor to Dion O'Banion, whose ranks were so sorely depleted by the St. Valentine's massacre of last year. George, who was picked up in the loop yesterday for his weekly interview with police, added to the day's financial news with the tale that he had invested $125,000 in a north side cleaning establishment.

These two, of course, only mentioned casual amounts, but George (Potatoes) Kaufman, who recently slapped a man who pushed too fast as they were going around together in the revolving door of a loop hotel, lightly dropped the news to Stege that he still had $600,000 or $700,000.

Study For Recital Cause Of Breakdown

New York, March 11.—(UP)—Despondency and a nervous breakdown, caused by intense study for a recital which she planned to give in two weeks, were believed today to have influenced Miss Elsie Mandelberg, 22, pianist and conservatory director, to commit suicide by climbing into a bathtub filled with burning newspapers.

Miss Mandelberg, considered a brilliant musician, was found in the bathtub, her clothing aflame, by her mother, Mrs. Celia Mandelberg, when she returned from a shopping trip. The girl died soon after the arrival of a physician.

LOVE NATION BORE FOR FORMER CHIEFTAIN SYMBOLIZED TODAY IN TRIBUTE PAID HIM AT CAPITOL

Thousands Passed Bier Under Dome For Last Look at Him

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Mar. 11.—(UP)—The love that a nation bore for William Howard Taft was symbolized today in a touching final tribute by thousands of citizens of the Capital who stood, silently, in a drenching spring rain as the final honors of the state were paid to the departed Chieftain.

For two hours, those of high and low degree who had waited in the rain filed through the rotunda of the Capitol past the catafalque upon which other Presidents lay in state in death—Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley and Harding. It was estimated that 8,000 persons passed by for a final look at the man who was beloved by so many for his genial nature.

A Negro was the last to look upon the face of the dead statesman at the Capitol. He was at the end of the long line which had included many Senators and Representatives. White and black, young and old were mingled in the solemn procession past the catafalque; a big policeman stationed at the casket lifted up little children to see the dead ex-President.

Doors Finally Closed.
The doors of the Capitol were closed to the public at 11:45 preparatory to moving the body to the church.

The casket was lifted from the catafalque in the rotunda at 11:55 A. M. after it had been lying in state exactly one hour and 50 minutes. Military units massed on the Capitol plaza stood at attention as it was borne down the steps.

Other thousands lined the streets of the Capital through which the brilliant funeral cortege moved to All Souls Unitarian church for the simple funeral ceremony which the former President had ordered. The funeral service at the church preceded the burial on a grassy slope in Arlington National Cemetery overlooking the Capitol.

Hush Fell On Crowd
The body of the dead statesman was taken from the Capitol as the Army band waiting below played, "Onward Christian Soldiers." A hush fell upon the large crowd waiting in the rain-swept plaza. Many of them had been unable to get into the rotunda.

Then the array of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, led by the Army band, moved slowly across the plaza and down Capitol Hill, in their midst the caisson bearing the body of the former President.

The rain beat down, mercilessly, throwing a pall over the funeral cortege. Uniforms of the large military escort were drenched with rain. Flags and colors hung limply to their standards.

One woman, Miss Alice Finney, suffered a broken leg in the crush of the crowd in the plaza as the body was brought down the Capitol steps; she fell from the side of a water fountain on the plaza and was sent to a hospital after being given emergency treatment at a Red Cross station nearby.

The funeral procession which moved from the Capitol to the church was much larger than that which had escorted the body to the Capitol three hours earlier. It was composed of a battalion of Infantry, a battalion of Field Artillery, a battalion of Marines and a company of Blue Jackets. The Army and Marine bands played funeral dirges.

While the funeral ceremonies were in progress today, condolences continued to pour into the Taft home from all parts of the world. They came from the heads of many governments, including President Von Hindenburg of Germany, and from American diplomatic officials in all parts of the world.

AN EARLIER REPORT BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 11.—(UP)—The great bronze portals under the Capitol dome swung open today to receive the body of William Howard Taft preparatory to final honors in behalf of the nation whose two highest offices he held.

Buried In Robes Of Chief Justice

Washington, Mar. 11.—(AP)—A crescent laurel wreath was placed today by President and Mrs. Hoover under the portrait of William Howard Taft which hangs in the White House. Taft sat for the picture while he was President.

The pleated folds of the black robe that he wore during the years he was on the bench were cloaked about his broad shoulders as he lay in the black, burnished casket at the Capitol.

His face was turned slightly to one side and light sifting through the dome fell upon his strong profile. His expression was peaceful, though a touch of gravity was added by the marks that illness had left upon his face.

Washington, Mar. 11.—(AP)—A crescent laurel wreath was placed today by President and Mrs. Hoover under the portrait of William Howard Taft which hangs in the White House. Taft sat for the picture while he was President.

Capitol to lay in state until noon that those who wished to pay final tribute might file by.

High officials, humble clerks and plain men, women and children gathered early before the east front of the Capitol building. Many of them waited on the same spot in a March blizzard 21 years ago to see Mr. Taft inaugurated.

Government that his body should be taken to the Capitol at 9 A. M., to remain until noon. The machinery of the government stopped for the day. Thousands took places on the route from the Taft home to the Capitol, to the church near Sixteenth and Columbia Road and out to Arlington Cemetery above the Potomac and the Capital where a grave was dug on a slope in a little grove of oaks near the tomb of Robert Todd Lincoln. It overlooks the National Capitol, where Mr. Taft served the nation for almost the span of a generation.

President and Mrs. Hoover arranged to attend the funeral service and accompany the cortege to Arlington.

An escort containing the Army and Marine bands with muffled drums was ordered to accompany the body from the home to the Capitol. In the procession also was a battalion each of Infantry, Cavalry, Marines and one company of Blue-jackets. Maj. Gen Fred W. Sladen commanded the escort.

Missed By Children
The route of the procession from the Taft home followed for a few blocks on Wyoming Avenue, then into Connecticut Avenue, where Taft was seen almost daily in recent years taking his daily walks. He knew hundreds in that neighborhood by sight and many a small child in that vicinity was sad today at the loss of the big-hearted genial man who so often stopped to pat a little head.

At the request of Mrs. Taft eulogies were omitted from the order of service and Dr. Usses G. B. Pierce, pastor of All Souls' church, substituted poetry. Woodworth's "Happy Warrior", Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington" and his "Crossing the Bar."

The character of the man who though defeated in 1912 when he carried only two states yet lived with such good-humored philosophy as to win the affection of the whole nation, probably could be no better depicted than in the "Happy Warrior":

Depicted By Poem
"Who, if he rise to station of command,
Rises by open means; and there will stand
On honorable terms, or else retire,
And in himself possess his own desire."

Who comprehends his trust, and to the same
Keeps faithful with a singleness of aim;
And therefore does not stoop, nor lie in wait
For wealth, or honors, or for worldly state;
Whose powers shed round him in the common strife,
Or mild concerns of ordinary life,
A constant influence, a peculiar grace;
But who, if he be called upon to face
Some awful moment to which Heaven has joined
Great issues, good or bad for human kind,
Is happy as a lover; and attired
With sudden brightness, like a man

LINCOLN
THERE was a boy of other days, A quiet, awkward, earnest lad, Who trudged long weary miles to get A book on which his heart was set— And then no candle had!

He was too poor to buy a lamp But every wise in woodmen's ways, He gathered seasoned bough and stem, And a crisp leaf, and kindled them Into a ruddy blaze.

Then as he lay full length and read, The firelight flickered on his face, And etched his shadow on the gloom, And made a picture in the room, In that most humble place.

The hard years came, the hard years went, But, gentle, brave, and strong of will, He met them all. And when to-day We see his pictured face, we say, "There's light upon it still."

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

Many mothers are faced with the problem of serving a wholesome noon meal to children, even though the hearty dinner for the rest of the family may be in the evening.

Since the modern rule is meat only once a day, a nourishing dish cooked without meat must be provided for the noon meal. If meat is served at the family dinner, dishes of this sort, however, often are rather tedious to make and are not easily and quickly digested.

Savory spinach is ideal for such a luncheon dish for children. The combination of rice with spinach is excellent from a dietetic standpoint.

Savory Spinach

Two pounds spinach, 3-4 cup diced celery, 1 large onion, 1-3 cup rice, 2 thin slices bacon, 2 table-poons grated cheese, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, few grains white pepper. Mince bacon. Peel and mince onion. Wash spinach through many waters. Put bacon in deep closely covered sauce pan and cook over a low fire until fat is well fried out. Add celery, onion, spinach and rice and cook closely covered for 30 minutes. Season with pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Stir in cheese and as soon as cheese is melted, serve.

If the rice is allowed to stand in lukewarm water to cover for several hours, it should cook tender in 30 minutes and absorb the spinach juice. All the good of the spinach is preserved in this way. No water is added unless the rice does not become tender in the spinach stock before it is absorbed.

Another unusual vegetable luncheon dish is a combination of onions and sweet potatoes in a nut sauce.

Luncheon Dish

Four large onions, 2 or 3 large sweet potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, paprika, 1-2 cup Brazil nuts cut in slices, 1 teaspoon cornstarch. Choose onions of uniform size and cook in boiling salted water until tender. It will take about one hour. In the meantime, pare sweet potatoes and cut in halves or quarters, lengthwise. Parboil for 15 minutes in not more than two cups of water. Then, if the sauce pan can be put in the oven, add butter and sugar, cover closely and bake in a moderate oven until tender. If sauce pan cannot be used in oven, bake potatoes in a casserole without first parboiling. Brown nuts in oven.

When ready to serve, arrange onions in center of hot platter and sprinkle with grated cheese, parsley and paprika. Surround with sweet potatoes. There should be about one cup of liquid left in pan in which potatoes were baked. Put this into a small sauce pan and stir in cornstarch stirred to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Cook and stir until mixture boils. Boil five minutes and add nuts. Simmer five minutes and pour over sweet potatoes.

Lecture By R. B. Miller, Chief Forester Dept. of Conservation

R. B. Miller, Chief Forester of the Department of Conservation gave an illustrated lecture before the Dixon Woman's Club on Saturday afternoon, March 8th, the slides having been collected during ten years' travel and experience in Illinois, the subject being "Illinois Forestry."

While not set out by subheads the lecture is really divided into ten sections, any of which can be omitted, depending upon the time allotted. The speaker first discussed the forest regions of the United States from which our lumber comes, including the Pacific Northwest and the Southern Pine region, also the northeastern region of New Brunswick and Quebec where the speaker spent ten years, founding the New Brunswick forestry school in 1908. The relation of the forest to recreation and game in the lake states and northeast was emphasized. A brief account of the location, history, ideals and needs of the National Forests was shown by a well selected list of slides. In 1965 the National Forests passed into the control of the U. S. Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, the 25th anniversary of this event having been celebrated in Washington on Feb. 1, 1930, with many prominent persons present. The speaker said that a very much larger appropriation was necessary to make the National Forests fireproof since this last year there were 7,277 fires doing damage to an amount of over five million dollars. The subject of "Forest Fires" came next and the damage to standing and future crops of timber was graphically shown by pictures from some of the great forest regions and some of the methods of fire prevention on state and national forests were discussed. It was mentioned that Illinois was one of the states which is co-operating with the Federal government on fire control, having a system of state fire wardens and periodical inspection by a representative of the U. S. Forest Service.

After this introduction on the general forestry situation in the country and by regions, the speaker came to Illinois, outlining the history of forestry since July 1, 1919. While some people may not think we have made any progress, the speaker showed that every line of a program formulated in 1921 was being carried out as appropriations allowed, including fire protection, purchase of land for state forests, forestry extension work among farmers at Urbana, and publicity and educational work, which is always necessary and must go on continually, through the publication of books, bulletins and correspondence. One service rendered is that of lectures to Women's Clubs and other organizations on Forestry as demanded, this being limited more especially to the winter period, although a demand during the summer was coming in from the Boys' and Girls' camps for lectures on conservation and nature study.

The original timber in Illinois, according to Mr. Miller, was 15,000,000 acres, some of it fine hardwoods which were cleared off to make room for agriculture and in the development of farms and industries. It just naturally shrank to something over 3,000,000 acres and according to Secretary Hyde, the putting back into timber of some of this 15,000,000 acres, some of which should never have been cleared, might assist some in our present efforts to curtail the production of agricultural crops. By slides he showed the difference in the trees and types of timber in the 400-mile length of our state, from the white pine in the White Pine Grove, near Dixon and Oregon, to the cypress and gum characteristic of the bottomlands and swamps of Cache river in southern Illinois, growing not far from the cotton fields around Cairo. Horse Lake fish and game refuge is a state conservation department project where native cypress will always be preserved.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Catholic church will meet Thursday afternoon at the K. C. home. The chairman for the meeting is Mrs. Frank Tyne. She will be assisted by Mrs. Gus Schweinsberg, Mrs. James Bales, Mrs. Wallace Hicks and Mrs. Will Lee.

Preserved in its natural condition and where thousands of ducks and geese find a resting place and feeding grounds in the fall and winter, wheat being sown on the island for that purpose.

All through, the value of wood for our industries was stressed and the fact that we could not do without wood. Only one industry was shown due to lack of time, the making of rotary veneer for fruit and vegetable crates, hampers and baskets, most important in our southern Illinois apple, peach and vegetable growing section. Various processes were shown, from the log to the finished basket, the views having been taken at Cobden and Jonesboro, Ill. The new State Forest of 3,279 acres is in this same region and some time should furnish a supply of timber for industries, railroads and mines in that general region as well as providing a place for recreation a game refuge and a small forest tree nursery and demonstration forest.

The lecture closed with colored slides on state parks, game preserves, and other spots not yet owned by the state, from northern to southern Illinois. The Woman's Clubs, according to the speaker, can exert an influence in their community for the preservation of natural conditions by state, private and county means so that we may "know Illinois" and the advantages she has to offer to the multitudes who can not afford to make trips to far-away places.

Dixon Symphony Orchestra Concert Was Decided Success

The Dixon Symphony Orchestra, with Mrs. Louisa L. Smith as the director and accompanist, gave one of the most successful and enjoyable concerts of the early spring season, last evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church. The program was varied and delightful, and the ensemble gave evidence of much patient work and excellent musical interpretation. There was a large and appreciative audience.

The violin solo by Miss Eleanor Hennessey was beautifully rendered; and the several vocal solos by Mrs. Wilhelm in her rich, vibrant, mezzo-soprano, were exceptionally enjoyable; and the violin duet by Miss Viola Vaage and Dean Ball was one of the treats of the evening. They play with true artistry and spirit. Each one appearing in these special numbers is an artist in his or her particular line and each one has brilliant future to look forward to.

All of the solos, duets, and special numbers were heartily enjoyed, and at the last number by the orchestra the applause was so prolonged that they responded with a snappy encore. The ensemble music was especially enjoyable last evening. Mrs. Smith is to be congratulated on the success which her orchestra has attained. Each year it seems to have gained in musicianship and expression. This concert was conceded to be the best yet given. Ashton, Sterling and Amboy were represented in the audience.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN FIRE AT HOSPITAL IN JACKSONVILLE

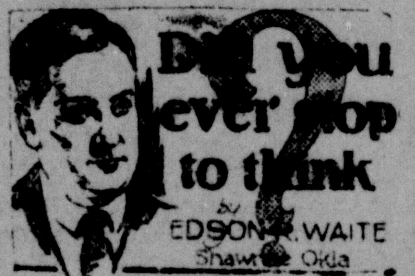

Administration Building
at State Hospital
Burned Monday

Jacksonville, Ill., Mar. 10.—Fifty thousand dollars damage was done to the administration building of the Jacksonville state hospital by fire of undetermined origin, which broke out on the top floor this morning, and was well under control at 10 o'clock.

Insane patients of the hospital were all locked within their wards, and the administration building was cleared of all occupants, so there were no casualties except when three attendants were cut by falling glass in attempting to rescue personal belongings. The building was used exclusively for offices and quarters of the superintendent and his staff.

The cupola was destroyed and the sixth floor and the rest of the building damaged.

Jacksonville fire department handled the situation promptly, although fear on the part of the administration led to their appeal for help to Springfield fire department, which sent an engine pump and 15 men there, which arrived after the fire was well under control.

CHARLES A. STAUFFER, PUBLISHER OF THE PHOENIX (ARIZONA) REPUBLICAN, SAYS: . . .

THAT the newspaper is the one outstanding dynamic factor in community building today. Through suggestion, persuasion and direction, the newspaper is able to lead the town or city in which it is read into fields of broader economic scope and value.

The day of the blatant ballyhoo, the "our town is the best town in the world" bragadocio, is long past. It is a wonder that it endured so long in the Americas scene, for it failed entirely in its purpose from the outset. Today the discerning newspaper that would be helpful points out, and figures, community needs. It calmly and with the backing of logic points to the channels for community development. It is influential in obtaining new industries, new citizens, new money. It helps to conserve the money already available.

An example is the "Buy at Home" movements which have been prosecuted with varying enthusiasm and varying degrees of success in many communities. Maintenance of a balance of trade is as important to the individual community as it is to the nation. Only by trading at home to a large extent can the citizens of a community retain that balance.

To prosecute successfully such a doctrine and to maintain its position as a community leader, the newspaper itself must be as vigorous as the policies it fathers. Lack of editorial strength will on the instant sap directional strength.

And lack of advertising vigor will take strength from any place to retain community funds for community projects. Every individual requires a specific number of products, a given amount of goods, a certain supply of clothing each year. So "advertising conscious" has the reader of today become that he will buy wherever advantages are offered, at home or abroad. Vigorous advertising within the community is necessary if its markets are to retain parity with other markets.

CO-ORDINATING EDITORIAL VIGOR AND ADVERTISING STRENGTH, THE NEWSPAPER BECOMES THE OUTSTANDING FACTOR IN DEVELOPMENT OF ANY COMMUNITY.

They Say It With Spinach—Judge Is Not Much Pleased

Torrington, Conn., March 10.—(UP)—Love may send its little gifts of roses, but when Thomas Medeci and William Nvarsiffo desire to express esteem and good-will they send spinach.

While Judge Elbert P. Hamlin was considering his decision in a minor civil action in which Medeci was plaintiff, Medeci and Nvarsiffo walked in on him and tried to present him with a bag of choice spinach and a basket of fruit. The judge indignantly refused the much-maligned greens, but the men left them there anyway.

Orders for their arraignment for contempt have been issued.

Brings Dead Plane Down Slower Than Parachute Jumper

Roosevelt, Field, L. I., March 10.—(UP)—Proof that an airplane which has suddenly lost its power can be brought to earth at a speed lower than that at which a parachute drops from the same altitude has been given by Clarence D. Chamberlain, noted trans-Atlantic flier.

His feat was performed yesterday in a Crescent monoplane, which carried in addition to Chamberlain, acting Captain Arthur W. Wallander of the New York police aviation squad and Fred Cole, a parachute jumper.

When the plane climbed to 1500 feet, Chamberlain closed the throttle. Cole jumped. The pilot let his plane mush through the air toward the field. As the falling speed of the plane increased, Chamberlain dropped the nose slightly and put the plane into a series of short flat glides, ending each glide in a stall. The wheels touched the ground in a soft slow landing 63 seconds after Cole had landed.

A Lovely, Lovely Woman Was, Again, the Cause Of It All

Evanston, Ill., March 10.—(AP)—As in several other cases, a woman was at the root of the trouble.

Bert Olson and John Welter had been friends for a long time; their affections for each other was so well known that they were often referred to as Evanston's Damon and Pythias.

Imagine the neighbor's surprise, then, when they found that it was young Olson who systematically luried brick after brick into window after window of the Welter home yesterday.

John's mother, attempting to help police find the motive for all the window-breaking, suggested Bert was jealous because her son had been going out with girls. The officers questioned their young prisoner.

"Girls?" he shouted. "I don't care how many other girls he goes with. But he'll have to leave mine alone."

Wales Continues His Hunting Trip

CLAIMS SHE IS ERLANGER WIDOW BROTHER DENIES

Seventy-Five Millions of Theater Magnate to Be Contested For

New York, March.—(AP)—Litigation over the millions of Abraham Lincoln Erlanger, czar of the theater, was forecast today by contradictory statements as to whether he left a widow.

Erlanger, 69, died yesterday at his apartment on Riverside Drive. The superintendent of the apartment building told reporters: "Mrs. Erlanger has issued instructions she is not to be disturbed by reporters or anybody else."

"There is no Mrs. Erlanger," said Abraham's brother, Mitchell L. Erlanger, retired justice of the state supreme court. "There is no widow. What I am telling you is 100 per cent the truth."

Max D. Steuer announced he had been retained as attorney for "Mrs. Erlanger, in whose arms Abraham L. Erlanger died in the Riverside Drive apartment."

He added that hotel records in New York and Atlantic City and transportation arrangements made by Erlanger's confidential employees also would make it easy to prove there was a Mrs. Erlanger. He estimated Erlanger's estate at $75,000,000. At his death Erlanger was the largest individual owner and operator of legitimate theaters in the country.

Union Officials In Embezzling Case are Given Prison Terms

A third sub-district official, Lon Fox, alleged to have been party to the embezzlement, faces a separate trial.

Loden claimed on the stand that the $3500 he received from a $50,000 fund, raised to buy food and clothing for striking miners, was "a gift."

BRUNO WAS WRONG

Detectives said Krebs and E. H. Bane, of Uniontown, Pa., a law student at the university of Pittsburgh, would be rearrested. They were released under $250 bail each when Gibson said Saturday that the shooting was accidental. Two young women who were at the party prior to the shooting, corroborated other statements that Gibson and Krebs were friends.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

GET READY NOW

Right now is an excellent time to give your fishing tackle a complete overhauling, so as to have it in readiness when the laughing streams of early spring send forth their call. Nothing is more discouraging than to travel many miles away to your favorite stream, then discover that your tackle is not in good condition. However, such happenings are a common occurrence among the great army of fishermen throughout the country and many trips have been spoiled on account of loose ferrules, rusty reel pivots, lost tip-top, split rods, rotted lines aged gut leaders, moth-eaten flies and other disagreeable items we could mention. Every split bamboo rod should be varnished whether the windings are loose or not, as it will protect the rod just that much more for the new season activities. Ferrules can be tightened by holding them over a gas flame or lighted candle until they become quite hot. Do not heat them too much, however, as they may lose their temper and bend easily, which naturally makes them worthless.

Ferrule cement and a small bottle of varnish should always be carried as accessories in the fishing country. One never knows just when such items might be needed to save the day's sport.

Take your reel apart and oil it thoroughly before departing on your spring fishing expedition if you expect same to perform satisfactorily. Sand and grit usually get into the bearings and should be cleaned out with care.

The enameled line should be newly dressed and rubbed down carefully with a soft cloth. To cast well, it is necessary to have the rod and line working in harmony, especially when fly casting.

Bowling News

Before a capacity crowd, Saturday night the Good Eat's Shop squad and the Orpheum Recreation of Springfield rolled a match series. The first game resulted in nothing other than a victory for Dixon, but by a scant margin of 16 pins, which was in part due to the failure of Otto Peters, Springfield Ace to come thru with a big count. Splits and so called "bad breaks" forced Peters to a 169 count. Livingston in spite of a break landed a 234 game which proved high for the entire match. The second tussle resulted in Springfield favor by a cut and dried total of 30 mapsles this giving them a lead at the close of the two games, of 14 pins. The spectators sensed a sudden change the third contest when the Springfield boys all started off with strikes as their motive. However due to the efforts of Pete Moersbacher and Ed Worley who held counts of 224 and 225 respectively the Dixon bowlers pried a 15 pin advantage after the final balls were tossed. Peters ended up with a nice 588 series and Livingston close behind with 565 for the visitors. Moersbacher proved himself an old "vet" at the game by rolling 215-202-224 for a genial count of 641 pins, which was high for the evening.

The following day the Chic Motor Club checked Prophetstown off their list, by clearing house a bit early, and soaking them in a deluge by 164 pins. "Doc" Leander Hess cracked off high single game with 241, and Ed Worley contested his rivals with 599 which took series honors.

Illinois Will Not Protest Track Meet

Chicago, Mar. 11—(AP)—A huge silver cup, emblematic of the Western Conference, indoor track and field championship, is at the University of Wisconsin to stay.
The Badgers shoved the trophy into a safe spot today after George Huff, director of Physical Welfare at the University of Illinois, said no protest would be filed over Wisconsin's victory.

Illinois was reported to be concerned over an alleged foul by a Wisconsin runner in the mile relay of the Big Ten meet at Minneapolis Saturday, which gave the Badgers the meet over Illinois by a close margin.

Jimmy Cave, Illinois runner, was the athlete said to have been hosted on a turn by William Henke of Wisconsin. The Badger athletic officials denied the foul.

With the Cagers

Chicago, Mar. 11—(AP)—The Western Conference basketball season is finished—with all the honors resting somewhere in Indiana.

The championship belongs to Purdue, undefeated in ten games, with the individual scoring title, including a new all-time Big Ten record, has been won by Branch McCracken, Indiana's captain and center, who accounted for 147 points in 12 contests, nine of them last night as Minnesota upset the Hoosiers, 34 to 29. McCracken's mark bettered by four points the previous record set last year by Stretch Murphy, Purdue's great center.

Murphy this season finished 10 points behind McCracken, but played in only 10 games—gaining an average of 13.7 points per game. McCracken's average was 12.25 points per contest.

Wisconsin finished in second place with eight victories and two defeats, while Michigan landed third place at six wins and four losses, when Indiana suffered its unexpected defeat last night at Minneapolis. Indiana and Illinois share fourth place, each winning 7 and losing 5 games.

Northwestern was fifth, with an even break in 12 games; Minnesota sixth, winning 3 out 12, with Chicago seventh, at two victories and 10 setbacks. Ohio State finished at the foot, winning but one game out of 10.

Northwestern was the high scoring team, collecting 349 points in 12 games, while Purdue held all opponents to 215 points in 10 games.

ROCHELLE NEWS

ROCHELLE—The Civics Club at High School is preparing a large book, "The History of Rochelle." They are securing information on all industries, organizations and business places. The American Legion is sponsoring the project which is meeting with general approval.

An extemporaneous speaking contest and a declamatory contest are planned to occur some time this spring.

Clarence Osborne of Rochelle was bound over in Judge George D. O'Brien's court here Wednesday under bonds of $2,000 on a charge of forgery. Osborne is charged with passing forged checks to local merchants, using his brother's signature. As he was unable to furnish bond he has been bound over to the grand jury at Oregon.

A series of raids were staged last Saturday night by Sheriff Samuel P. Good and Deputy Clinton H. Myers in Oregon, Oehelle, Polo and Haldene. In some of the places visited liquor was found, and in others they found nothing stronger than water, however, the raids netted several persons, one of whom Laverne Lynch of Rochelle entered a plea of guilty in the county court Monday and was handed a sentence of 60 days at Vandalia and a $100.00 fine by Judge Leon Zick.

OGLE AND LEE IN SCORING OF PURE- BRED HOLSTEINS

Ranked Well In Tests Of Butterfat Conducted In January

Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—Starting the new year with an impressive record, the herd of 10 purebred Holstein cows owned by Douglas Knights, Sandwich, LaSalle county took top honors for January butterfat production among the 1,443 herds put to test in the 53 Illinois dairy herd improvement associations, according to the monthly honor roll of high producers just compiled by C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Knights' Holsteins averaged 68.5 pounds of butterfat each during the first month of the year.

Best in the state among the large herds, including all those of more than 10 cows, was a group of 18 purebred Holsteins owned by Sumner Wilson, Butler, which averaged 53.2 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Fourteen counties crowded in for a place on the January roll of high producing herds. Ogle county put across two of the ten best large herds and one of the ten best small ones, while Winnebago county also landed three high producers by having one of the ten best large herds in each division. Kane county had two of the ten best large herds, while Ogle, Lee, DuPage, and Bureau had one each of the ten best herds in this division. LaSalle, Edwards, Champagne, Moultrie, McLean and Peoria counties each scored by placing one of the ten best small herds.

Ogle county's association led the 54 others of the state when the 349 cows tested during the month in that group hung up an averaged record of 33.4 pounds of butterfat each.

Owners of the ten highest producing large herds together with the average butterfat production for each cow were: Sumner Wilson, Butler, 53.2 pounds of butterfat; Elmer Hoover, Oregon, 47.9 pounds; George Getzsdauer, Mount Morris, 47.6 pounds; Twin Pines Farm, Geneva, 46.6 pounds; George H. Rudy, Mattoon, 46.2 pounds; Stewart Derwent, Durand, 44.2 pounds; Leffelman Brothers, Sublette, 43.5 pounds; Fair Oaks Farm, Wheaton, 43.4 pounds; A. E. Howard, Dundee, 43 pounds, and E. P. Yepsen, Ohio, 42.9 pounds.

Owners of the ten best small herds and the average butterfat production for each cow were: Douglas Knights, Sandwich, 68.5 pounds; Lawrence Larson, Davis, 66.1 pounds; Edwin Meinert, Davis, 55.3 pounds; Guy Pizley, West Salem, 52.3 pounds; J. W. Hemmway, Oregon, 52.3 pounds; A. F. Koss, Savoy, 52.2 pounds; Orall Bundy, Sullivan, 51.6 pounds; James Lament, Butler, 50.3 pounds; Edward Behrend, Bloomington, 49.2 pounds, and Herbert Hakes, Edelstein, 48.3 pounds.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—With receipts of cattle in the last two weeks the largest at the corresponding season since 1927, and the beef outlook narrow, prices have been weak. The Prairie Farmer's weekly market review said today. "Fat yearling were an exception, selling rather briskly at strong to high prices," the review said. "Basic conditions in the cattle market show no material change. Cattle feeders continue to take out more than steers than at this time a year ago."

"Hog prices have been weak in the last few days. Receipts have increased moderately after declining about 25 per cent from the end of January and demand seems less aggressive on the higher price level. A series of wide swings, with somewhat higher prices reached on the upturns, seems to be the logical expectancy, unless too many hogs have been held back. A symptom of this is the fact that weight per head at most markets averaged higher than a year ago."

"Increased receipts of lambs after a brief period of curtailed loadings forced prices to a new low level since 1921. Consumer demand for lamb has been stimulated by lower prices, but there is still some evidence of congestion from heavy receipts early in February."

"Wool prices have been holding steady on the lower level reached early in February. Domestic stocks of wool and goods are not unusually heavy and pressure abroad has relaxed."

"Buying by the farm board agencies finally checked the downward course of wheat prices after they had crashed to the dollar level in leading markets. Demand from abroad for the surplus wheat in North America, the tonic most needed, remained small, although it showed signs of moderate expansion. The situation would change quickly if the new crop should be jeopardized and it should become likely that world production will be below consuming needs again next season.

"Heavier offerings and slower demand coupled with the extreme weakness in wheat carried corn prices to new low levels for the season, with a tendency to stabilize reappearing. The visible supply now totals 21 million bushels, some industries report that they now have a surplus over their nearby needs and some of the other holes in trade channels have been filled. Lighter receipts, cessation of the increases in the visible supply and stability in wheat prices are needed for a stronger market in corn."

"The recent sharp decline in prices of alfalfa has induced farmers to hold back shipments and arrivals at central western markets last week were small. Prices, particularly on dairy grades, were firmer. Smaller receipts kept timothy markets steady."

"Fresh egg prices tumbled sharply last week, losses of five to seven cents a dozen being marked down. Production is gaining rapidly and receipts are now running substantially ahead of the corresponding period a year ago."

"The butter market took another nose-dive last week when 92-score creamery butter declined to 33 cents a pound in the Chicago wholesale market. Lack of confidence in the outlook for the immediate future was the chief cause of the decline."

CARE OF THE BROOD SOW BY LLOYD BREISCH

At this time of the year it is essential to all hog raisers to take very good care of the brood sows. The feeding, care, and management of the brood sows during the winter and especially right now will largely determine the success of the hog raising enterprise.

The most important points in the feed and care of brood sows are: (1) Be honest in brood and mineral matter; (2) the right amount of feed, not too much or they will get too fat; (3) plenty of exercise; (4) comfortable quarters dry, well ventilated and well lighted; (5) freedom from constipation, worms and lice.

Where sows raise but one litter of pigs a year, they need little or no concentrates during the summer providing they run on first class pasture such as alfalfa, clover, or rape.

In winter it is essential that sows be fed rations containing plenty of protein and mineral matter, especially lime and phosphoric acid. Sowed corn alone will usually fatten small small litters of weak pigs, due to the fact that corn is low in protein and mineral matter. Feeding legume hay to brood sows during the winter cannot be too highly recommended for it is rich in protein, lime, and vitamins, it is laxative and it furnishes bulk to distend the stomach and intestines properly. Constipation, a serious trouble with sows should be guarded off by the use of such feeds as linseed meal, legume hay, or roots. Whether to raise one or two litters per year will depend on local conditions.

About 5 days before farrowing the sows should be separated from the other hogs and placed in a sunny farrowing pen to become accustomed to her surroundings. Her ration should now be reduced and consist of cooling, laxative feeds. The farrowing place should be comfortable, dry, well ventilated, and so sheltered that a deep nest is not necessary to prevent the new-born pigs being chilled. Long hay or straw might entangle the pigs. Guard rails should be installed to prevent the sow from laying on the little pigs.

For the first 24 hours after farrowing only lukewarm water should be given the sow. The ration for the following 4 or 5 days should be light after which she should be gradually brought to full feed. Good mothers with large litters will usually lose flesh in spite of the most liberal feeding.

WINTER CARE OF PASTURES PAYS DIVIDENDS IN SUMMER

Use of Fertilizer, Lime and Seed Will Do Away with Poor Stands, Thin Spots

GOOD PASTURE REQUIRES YEAR AROUND ATTENTION

5 STEPS IN PASTURE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

WINTER is the time to plan for the most profitable milk production next summer, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Because green grass is the cheapest and one of the very best milk-making feeds, many farmers find that it pays good dividends to give pastures all the year around attention. By proper fertilization, which is done in late fall or winter, reseeding, cultivation, and grazing only a part of the pasture at one time, the pasture season may be lengthened considerably and the yield of low-cost milk-making green feed greatly and profitably increased.

On old worn-out pastures at the Washington agricultural experiment station the grazing season for dairy cows was increased from 161 to 200 days, an increase of 39 days, by the use of an improvement program carried out over the entire year.

The first step in building up a pasture is fertilization, which is done during the late fall or winter. Manure and a phosphate fertilizer are needed on most worn out pastures to make them more productive. Where soils are sour, lime is required to sweeten them before good yields of pasture crops can be obtained. Before applying fertilizers or lime it is well to have the soil tested to determine the right amount of each. The Blue Valley Creamery Institute

The principle has been "Seed what you can and harvest what you may." Bread lines in Russia; starvation in the Orient; unwieldy surplus in America; ruin from lack, and ruin from plenty, which has the advantage for recovery?

Changed harvesting and transportation methods have brought the flood to the centers more rapidly than ever known.

Livestock Set-Up Revamped; Waiting Vote From Co-Ops

BY FRANK L. WELLER

(Associated Press Farm Editor)
Washington.—(AP)—Farm board intervention is believed to have smoothed out the path toward incorporation of the proposed national commodity marketing association for livestock.

For five months competitive co-operatives were deadlocked over the plan of operation proposed by the national organization committee. The conflict centered around divergent views of the relative advantages to be given interests buying livestock in public yards and those buying direct from the producer.

The issue was taken back to a round table discussion by the co-operatives and members of the farm board. The latter opened the way for constructive action by proposing a central sales agency with which the various co-operatives would affiliate by contract. It would have two subsidiaries—a publishing concern and a feeders' financing corporation.

Cooperatives would come into the national set-up by vote of their boards of directors. When two-thirds of them have signed contracts, plans for incorporation of the $1,000,000 National Livestock Producers' association will go forward.

Cooperatives now handle only about 18 percent of the nation's livestock and the farm board was eager to leave the door open to the other 82 percent, which incorporation according to the new plan would do.

Weiss To Appear On WLS Program

The use of minerals in hog rations will be discussed on March 17 and 18 by W. E. Carroll, of the University of Illinois, during the Swift Roundup at 12:45 noon, over WLS, Chicago.

Mr. Weiss is president of the Illinois Association of Vocational Agriculture Teachers. His livestock and meat judging teams have won state and national honors.

Copies of any of these talks may be had by writing Radio Studio, Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago.

HOG FEEDING IS OBJECT OGLE CO. FARMERS SCHOOL

University Expert Is Instructor at Meeting in Oregon

The supervisors' room of the Ogle county court house was packed to overflowing March 3, when Farm Bureau members from all parts of the county came to attend a hog feeding school conducted by the Farm Bureau.

Prof. E. T. Robbins of the Animal Husbandry Department University of Illinois was the chief speaker. He outlined in detail a method of figuring out balanced rations for pigs, brood sows and fattening hogs. Each man present was given a sheet showing the nutritive ingredients in a wide variety of feeds from which he might select, according to the system explained, the quantities and kinds of feed would combine to make the most practical and least costly ration.

Home grown feeds were to be used as far as possible, Prof. Robbins said, purchasing only those that are necessary to balance the ration. It was shown that it was not necessary to spend money for either commercial mixed feeds or minerals, both of which add much to the expense of pork production.

Sanitation was said to be an essential to economic production and the farmers were urged to follow out the Farm Bureau system of swine sanitation in connection with the plan of properly balanced feeding. Reports from farmers who are using the recommended systems show that they are adding at least $5.00 per hog to their profits.

These men are among those who are making good use of their farm organization and who benefit by the instructions given at Farm Bureau meetings. There were 80 men in attendance at this meeting. Every one listened eagerly and copied the figures from the blackboard so as to study them over at home. Apparently it was a day well spent for all of them.

Parasitic Insects Given Tender Care

Madison, Wis.—(AP)—On a tiny parasitic insect which University of Wisconsin scientists are nursing with utmost tenderness, garden raisers of this state are basing their hopes for reducing the loss caused yearly by pea aphids.

The insect, known to science as the Syrphidae, has an appetite for the pea aphid, one of the most destructive pests attacking Wisconsin crops.

C. L. Fluke of the economic entomology staff at the university is doing the experimental work with the insect. He believes the annual loss of from 5 to 20 per cent of the pea crop through the ravages of the aphid will be reduced materially by the insects he is nurturing.

Rest Period for Cow Is Essential

PAYS TO FEED DRY COW LIBERALLY

Provide A Thin Dry Cow With—

3 to 4 lbs. of grain a day to build up

flesh and fat

Then provide laxative feeds for 10 DAYS before calving time

BLUE VALLEY CREAMERY INSTITUTE

THE feed a dairy cow receives during her dry period plays an important part in determining the amount of milk she gives when she freshens, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Every cow should have from 6 to 8 weeks of dry period in which to rest before coming into milk again. This will give her an opportunity to put on extra flesh and get into proper condition for calving.

The thin cow especially should be fed liberal silage, or she is dry. Experienced dairymen find that it pays to feed a thin cow quite heavily during the early part of her dry period. This will get her in good condition before calving time so that she will not have to be fed more than a light ration during the last 10 days or two weeks before freshening.

A dry cow in good condition on good pasture needs little or no extra feed. However, if she is thin, she requires some grain in addition to grass. In winter and other seasons when pasture is not available, good legume hay, and silage when it is to be had, should be fed in amounts the cow will eat each day.

For a cow in fair flesh from 2 to 4 pounds of grain a day in addition to hay or silage, or pasture, is sufficient. A thin cow should receive more grain—from 4 to 6 pounds a day. A very satisfactory grain mixture is equal parts by weight of ground corn or barley and ground oats.

During the latter part of the dry period, about ten days before calving, feeds of more laxative nature should replace the regular grain ration. Laxativeness is usually well provided for in good green pasture alone or by feeding liberal amounts of legume hay and silage. When neither are to be had, a grain mixture made up of equal parts by weight of ground oats and wheat bran will take their place. From 2 to 4 pounds of grain a day, depending on the condition of the udder, is a good allowance. If the udder becomes badly caked, only small amounts of grain and hay should be fed.

AGENT IS REWARDED

Morrison, Ill., Mar. 10.—(AP)—Earl F. Brown, night agent for the Northwestern Railroad, was given a gold watch at a banquet here Saturday night as a reward for his vigilance which probably saved a fast passenger train from being wrecked recently.

As the train passed through here, Brown noticed fire flying from an axle and notified a dispatcher who had the train stopped at a control tower. After the train was halted a wheel fell off. The presentation was made by L. A. Clapp of Chicago, Superintendent of the Galena Division.

FARM PRODUCE STAR IN OPERA; IN PARIS DEBUT

Graduate Of University of Illinois Scores In Grand Opera

Urbana, Ill.—(UP)—That the farm can produce opera stars as well as lure them away from their careers, is proved by recent developments in the life of a graduate of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Marion Talley, youthful star of the Metropolitan opera, sang her swan song to retire to the farm, less than a year ago. Recently officials of the College of Agriculture, received word from Paris, France, that Arthur Kraeckmann, who received the degree of bachelor of science from the institution in 1916 and who farmed for a time after being graduated, had made a successful debut as a baritone in the Paris opera.

Kraeckmann farmed near Madison, Wisconsin, following his graduation 14 years ago. Just when he left the farm to develop his operatic career is not revealed in alumni records of the institution but the first change of address, entered March 16, 1922, shows that he was then in Paris. He is now living in Nice, according to the most recent address information from him. He is 37 years of age.

Chicago was his home at the time he enrolled as a freshman in the college of agriculture. A keen interest in music courses and activities did not prevent him from carrying a full agricultural course. In fact, he completed 20 semester hours more of agricultural subjects than are required of present-day students in the college. Among the other things he carried a heavy schedule of 12 hours of veterinary science work.

Membership in the university glee and mandolin clubs during his junior and senior years was Kraeckmann's principal activity as a student. He also sang in local church choirs during his campus days.

NAT. REPUBLICAN CLUB FOR REPEAL 18th AMENDMENT

Urges Party Leaders In Congress To Work For Such A Result

New York, March 11.—(AP)—The National Republican Club today was on record in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

After a four-hour session marked by spirited clashes between wets and dries in the membership, the club by a vote of 461 to 335 adopted a resolution which held the Eighteenth Amendment "is disruptive of our federal system, in that it is destructive of the rights of the state," and urged representatives of the Republican party in both Houses of Congress to advocate and vote for its repeal "in order to restore the American form of government."

The club has a membership of about 2,000 about half of whom live in New York and vicinity and the rest scattered throughout the country. Many leaders of the party are members. Both the wet and dry factions had waged an intensive battle for proxies.

Motion to table the resolution was defeated when Richard W. Lawrence, president of the club reversed an earlier ruling and admitted the wet proxies under protest.

The president reversed his decision when warned by Martin Saxe one of the wet leaders that exclusion of the wet proxies would break up the club. A formal protest against the admission of the wet proxies was filed by Andrew B. Humphrey, leader of the dry forces.

Henry H. Curran, National President of the Association, commented as follows: "after this genuine demonstration the Republicans in their next conventions had better watch out. They are getting on the right road again."

Two years ago a similar resolution was tabled.

FORD BLAMES BIG MONEY

New York, March 11.—(AP)—The New York World today quotes Henry Ford as saying that the big money interests of New York are back of the bootlegging in this country and that liquor interests are concentrating near his factories in Dearborn, Mich., because they know he is a dry.

The World sent a staff representative to Dearborn to establish if explains how much comfort and prosperity the Eighteenth Amendment has brought to Dearborn. The mission was inspired by Ford's telegram last week to the House Judiciary committee describing the amendment as the greatest force for comfort and prosperity of the United States.

"Do you think I don't know who is back of the bootleggers in this country?" Ford is quoted.

"It is the big money interests in New York. You don't think that the bootleggers could finance these big liquor deals themselves do you?"

"Do you think I don't know that liquor is sold in Dearborn? Of course I know it. It is sold here because the liquor interests are concentrating in his neighborhood because they know I am a dry."

"Prohibition can be enforced because we enforce it here at the factory. I simply won't let men work here if they drink."

"Why are the New York newspapers so interested in prohibition? I'll tell you why. It is because they are controlled and they do what they are told. Everybody wants to show up Henry Ford's town."

PATHFINDER'S POLL

Washington, March 11.—(UP)—The United States wants stricter enforcement of the prohibition law, according to a nationwide poll conducted by the Pathfinder, a weekly publication here which circulates largely in rural districts.

Results of the poll follow:

Favoring stricter enforcement, 214,873.

Government sale of light wines and beer, 75,604.

Prohibition as is, 57,953.

Government sale of hard liquor, 56,502.

Private sale at non-drinking places, 24,252.

Return of saloons, 15,444.

The ballots were classified as 272, 826 "dry" and 171,826 "wet."

States voting "wet" in the poll were Montana, Nevada, Idaho, Louisiana, North and South Dakota, and the District of Columbia. Kansas was said to be 75 per cent dry and New York 63 per cent dry. The division was close in Arizona, Connecticut, Maine, South Carolina, Virginia and Washington.

PRESIDENT BORN OF HAITI AT ODDS WITH COMMISSION

Tells Hoover's Board He Is Still Head of Republic

Cape Haitien, Haiti, March 11.—(AP)—Open conflict developed today between the Hoover Commission investigating conditions in Haiti and Louis Borno, president of the island republic.

The Hoover Commission, which is here in course of a tour of the nation, telephoned Port-au-Prince that President Borno must keep his promise given Sunday to permit selection of a provisional government which would act until a constitutional government could be placed in power.

President Borno's answer, as telephoned here, was that he was still president of the country and would do as he pleased.

The Commission today was considering issuance of an ultimatum to Borno in which he would be informed that he must take all the consequences politically and personally if he refused to adhere to the arrangement agreed upon Sunday.

This ultimatum if issued would virtually withdraw all protection from him, and he might then be in danger of his life, so intense is public feeling.

M. Borno told Prefects of all districts that the Council of State, a body of personal appointees, would elect the next president.

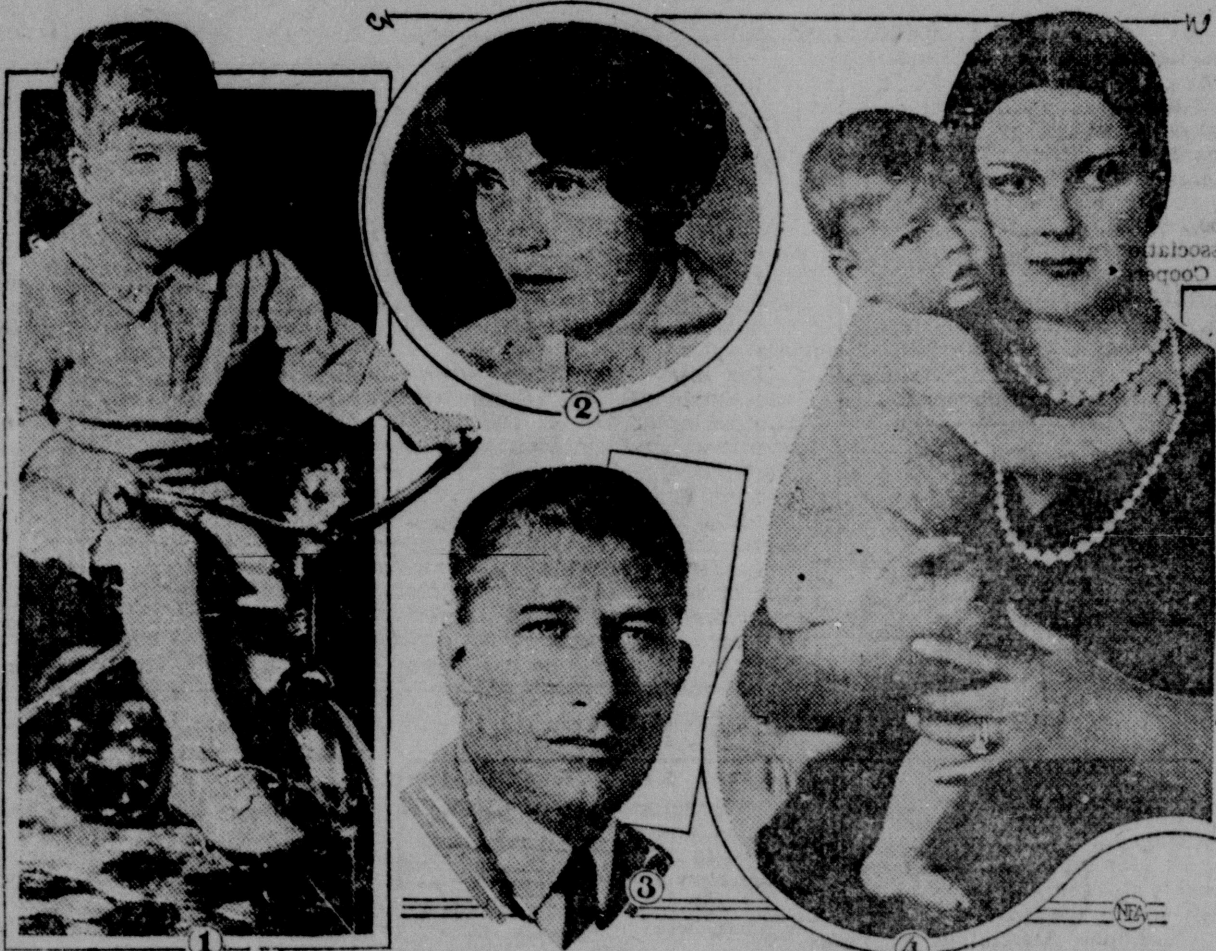

The commissioners will remain here for a few days, but may leave here today unless untoward complications arise in the Capital, leaving aboard the Rochester tonight. They

RAID FIREARMS STOCK

Joliet, Ill., March 10.—(AP)—Four robbers raided the John Woodman sporting good store in daylight today, trussed up the proprietor, and escaped with six revolvers, one double-barreled shotgun, and a small amount of money.

Police believe the robbers were Chicago gangsters seeking to replenish their firearms supply, which was presumably diminished during the recent drive on gun toters in Chicago.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH The little white church on the hill Cor. Highland and Sixth A. G. Suechting, Pastor Second Wednesday in Lent

Lenten service at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening. The sermon is based on the second word from the cross: "Today Thou shalt Be with Me in Paradise" Luke 23:43. If a man would promise and also give you a million dollars, that would be a great thing. If a great physician would not only promise but actually restore you to perfect health that would be still greater. But greatest of all promises that were ever realized is the promise of the Master to the penitent thief: "Verily I say unto thee, thou shalt be with Me in Paradise." The choir will render an anthem having for its theme the above Words of Jesus addressed to the thief.

If you want to attend an inspiring service try our Lenten services on Wednesday evenings. They are different from our morning worship. It will pay you to come and see the beautifully illumined cross in red and purple over the entrance of the church. The altar and pulpit are covered with new violet hangings and dainty lace. The whole atmosphere is that of devotion and worship.

The members of our church extend a hearty welcome especially to outsiders to these Lenten services. In fact every member feels it his or her duty to bring a friend to all the services. The offerings during Lent are set aside for our church debt. We ask all members to bring not a collection but an offering unto the Lord. "This have I done for Thee." "What doest thou for Me?"

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

An encouraging beginning was made last Wednesday with the Lenten services held at our church. Every Wednesday during Lent services will be held at 7:30 P. M. The topic for tomorrow night is "Teach Us To Pray."

The regular choir helped most effectively in the worship last Wednesday night. These services are planned for those who do not have a church home as well as for the membership of the congregation. We invite you to come with us and spend an evening of quiet joy and inspiration. You will be welcomed and made to feel at home among us.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES The March meeting of the Loyal Men's Class will be held at the home of Silas Parks, 626 Brinton Ave., this evening. The program features will comprise the "Annual Fun Night," and members may expect some surprises.

Weekly appointments for Aid Society, all day, Wednesday. Prayer meeting the same evening, 7:30; and choir rehearsal, Friday night, will occur as usual.

For Sunday evening, March 30, Col. Alfred L. Moody of Waterloo, Ind., has been dated for a down-to-the-minute address on "The Constitution the Rock of Liberty" as a part of the campaign to further and perfect the advances of American Temperance forces. Col. Moody is a part of the organization, captained by Dr. Oliver W. Stewart, styled "The Flying Squadron," a most vigorous and effective power against the subtleties and deceptions of the outlandish wet propaganda movement.

To the sister churches and Sunday schools of the community we offer a cordial invitation to attend and participate in the State School for Sunday School workers, tomorrow, under the direction of Secretary Geo. N. Burnie and Field Operator T. A. Tripp. The two sessions open at 9:00 and 1:30 o'clock. No evening session is held.

The Children's Mission Band will meet at the church, Saturday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock.

First Photos of the Crash of Ben Eielson's Plane

This is the first picture of the wreckage of the plane in which Pilot Carl Ben Eielson, famous Arctic flyer, and his mechanic, Earl Borland, met death when forced down on the frozen wastes while flying to the rescue of Olaf Swenson and his party on the ice-bound fur trading ship, the Nanuk, at North Cape, Siberia. This picture was brought back by members of the rescue party which finally found the plane after a long search. It was brought back to Alaska and then the U. S. by airplanes.

This picture shows Russian and American planes and the ice-jacked schooner, the Nanuk, at North Cape, Siberia. When Eielson and Borland disappeared, the fur trading ship was made the base of aviators searching for the missing men.

Calls Deneen Modern Dr. Jekyll, Mr. Hyde

Chicago, March 11.—(UP)—Depicting United States Senator Charles S. Deneen as a modern "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Ruth Hanna McCormick was formally launched on her Cook county campaign today.

Mrs. McCormick, who is seeking the Republican nomination for United States Senator over Senator Deneen in the approaching April primaries, declared in a speech last night that Cook county politics "resembles a modern mystery story with its bi-partisan alliances." Mrs. McCormick dwelt upon the alliances between Senator Deneen's faction and A. J. Cermak on the Sanitary District, and in the judicial election last fall.

Referring to Senator Deneen's vote for the Jones 5 and 10 law in Washington, Mrs. McCormick presented a work sketch of the Senator's "40-60 alliance" with the wet "Tony Cermak, whose campaign emblem was a bottle opener."

MISS AURELIA BEE.

Happy Mother Tells How New and Different Medicine Brought Health to Her Daughter.

"NEVER REALLY WELL UNTIL SHE TOOK KONJOLA"

MISS AURELIA BEE.

"My sixteen-year-old, Aurelia, was never really well until she took Konjola," said Mrs. Carl Bee, 913 North Eighth St., East St. Louis. "She was sickly all her life. Stomach trouble and constipation were always sources of misery to her. There was little she could eat without suffering from indigestion. She became very nervous and was irritable and cross."

"The many medicines we tried were of no avail until she started the Konjola treatment. Her condition began to improve right from the start. She began to eat more heartily and the food caused no distress. Her nerves became calm and she slept better than in years. She is back to normal weight and her system has been built up. Konjola was, indeed, a blessing in my home."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKIN'S DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout the entire section.—Adv.

by ANNE AUSTIN

AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE CHIMP! Doris Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body, ruck-ruck, dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeley.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, sister of Berkeley, and detective of body at sunrise swimming party; Captain Strawn of homicide squad.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD: Mrs. GEORGE BERKELEY, social climber; George Berkeley, bitterly opposed to his daughter GIGI; RIVAN'S engagement to SEYMOUR CROSBY, New York society widower and a close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's social secretary, MRS. LAMBERT; CLORINDA Berkeley, her sister, GIGI, who unconsciously sprinkled all guests Friday night with perfume from same flask used in murder, when bottle was presented to Mrs. Berkeley by Crosby; DICK Berkeley, infatuated with Doris and missing from his room all night; EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, engaged to Doris; WICKETT, the butler.

Detectives scour estate for Dick Berkeley, while Dundee reconstructs crime, which he believes was imprudent and committed by a member of the household, all of whom become suspects. After girl's body is removed from summerhouse by coroner Dundee and Strawn go to house, where innumerable are in ignorance that the girl did not commit suicide but has been murdered. Strawn makes the startling announcement, and adds that Dundee is to assist him in solving the murder.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

GEORGE BERKELEY broke the silence. "Naturally we're glad to have Mr. Dundee with us, though I am afraid his visit—" he began uncertainly.

"I'll explain, Mr. Berkeley," Captain Strawn assured him. "Mr. Dundee is what I'd call a mighty clever amateur detective, though being what you might call an old-fashioned regular I don't usually have much use for amateurs. Criminalist, I believe, is the word he uses. He's studied Scotland Yard methods and just this summer he did me a good turn on the biggest murder case we've ever had in Hamilton. Getting material for books on the subject—that's his game. He writes shorthand, too, and he's going to take down what you folks have to tell me—"

"A detective! Are you really a detective, Bonnie Dundee?" GIGI cried, springing from Mrs. Lambert's embrace and running swiftly across the room to seize Dundee's hands and swing them with frantic joy. "Oh, I'm glad! You won't let the police bully me and be horrified, will you? Of course, Captain Strawn looks like a gruff old darling bear—" and she whirled to pat the chief's cheek impudently. "Woof! You do need a shave!"

"I know it," Captain Strawn acknowledged ruefully. "Dundee hustled me out of bed and I didn't take time— But this is a serious business, young woman!" he interrupted himself sternly, though he could not keep his eyes from twinkling at her. "Now, is everybody here? Are you Mrs. Berkeley, ma'am?" he asked politely, turning to Mrs. Lambert.

Color swept over Mrs. Lambert's still beautiful but dried face. "I am Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Berkeley's—secretary," she said, her voice low but very clear.

"My wife is still sleeping, I believe," George Berkeley explained stiffly. "At any rate, she has not come

KOREAN THEATER FIRE KILLS 104 MOSTLY CHILDREN

Disaster At Celebration of Japanese Naval Base Today

Seoul, Korea, March 10—(AP)—One hundred and four persons were killed and more than 100 injured today in a fire which broke out at a motion picture show at the Chinkai naval base in southern Korea. Most of the victims were Japanese naval men and their wives and children.

The show was being held in a warehouse at the naval base in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the capture by the Japanese of Mukden in the Russo-Japanese war. The anniversary was celebrated throughout the empire today.

The film, which ignited and caused the fire, was a patriotic reproduction of scenes in the Russo-Japanese conflict. About 600 persons were in the building when the film burst into flames and fired the structure.

Most of those who perished were trapped in the building. The blaze broke out at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and raged for two hours.

Mostly Small Children
The majority of the victims were small children. Flames from the warehouse for a time threatened to spread to a nearby ammunition magazine. The blue-jacketed fire fighters barely managed to prevent this.

FORMER SUFFERER FREED FROM BED AFTER KAVATONE

Another Former Sufferer Spreads Glad Tidings of Relief Through Sensa- tional New Medicine.

One of the most inspiring and pleasing duties that befall The Kavatone Man is to interview people who have tried Kavatone and hear from their own lips the stories of how this sensational, much talked of medicine has benefited them. People of all ages and from every walk in life are talking about Kavatone and the wonderful way in which it brings new health to bodies that have been poison clogged and racked with pain for years.

MRS. CHARLES MCCARTHY.

Among the hundreds of other people who are using Kavatone for new health is Mrs. Charles McCarthy who lives at 705 Ridge Street, LaPorte, Indiana. Mrs. McCarthy said: "I have suffered with stomach trouble for the past five or six years. My stomach became so weak and upset that I could hardly eat at all and I practically lived on a diet of bread, milk and potatoes since these foods were the only ones that did not cause intense gas pains and suffering. After eating I would bloat and the gas pains would be so severe that many times it seemed I could not possibly stand them any longer. I would have such weak, dizzy spells that often I could not get out of bed for days at a time and this condition would be made all the worse by terrible headaches that seemed always to accompany the weak dizzy spells.

"I was confined to bed with one of these spells when I decided to give Kavatone a trial. I had heard so many people telling of the way Kavatone had relieved them that it seemed to me that was the only way out of a bad situation. The manner in which Kavatone brought quick relief to me is almost like a story out of a book. It acted as no other medicine ever had (and I had taken many things in my search for relief), and before I had finished taking one bottle my appetite had returned. I was eating better than I had for years and the glorious part of it all was that my food was digesting and the pain gone from my stomach. With the stomach pains also went my dizzy spells and headaches and now that I am able to be up and around again it seems to me that I just cannot say enough for Kavatone."

Daily Health Talk

SOME PATENT MEDICINES
By J. C. Anderson, M. D., Austin, Texas.

This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

There are some weak willed, credulous creatures who will swallow anything—any kind of tonic, or remedy that a neighbor advocates. They are the sort who fall ready victims to the patent medicine advertisements. Of course the most lucrative field of the patent medicine vendor is where there are no doctors, and medicine shows have a record breaking attendance wherever they pitch tent. People generally should be warned against the indiscriminate use of such nostrums as are tried by quacks and fakes. Sometimes a mixture of molasses and salts will be recommended to cure almost every ailment from tuberculosis to ingrowing nails. There should be wholesale exposure and condemnation for the impostor whose wares, when analyzed, are revealed to be lacking in a single virtue advertised, or worse still, are really noxious.

Study the medicine advertising in some papers and you will find yourself in a veritable realm of fakery peopled with monstrous myths. Here is an amulet in the form of an electric contrivance, warranted to restore youth and vigor to the senile; yonder a magic ring or a bewitched plaster which will draw the pangs of rheumatism from the tortured body or "your money back." Now and then quacks get so brazen that we hear such declarations as "my magnetic shield can cure anything, paralysis, consumption, Bright's disease, obesity, insanity, or senility."

Space does not permit dwelling on the money wrung from dupes of headache cures, drink cures, morphine cures. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are annually squandered by gullible American people who give credence to the advertisements of quacks. Next to bogus stocks there is no more fruitful source of easy money than the frightened human being who dopes himself with mail-order remedies. It is paradoxical that in a land boasting of armies of highly trained medical men, so many people put their trust in the far-fetched claims of a group of men whose main object in life is to extract money from other people's pockets, when a visit to a reputable doctor, or a letter to the state department of health, would get trustworthy health information.

Pilgrimage To Start Wednesday; Arrangements Being Made

Bombay, March 10—(UP)—The advance guard of Mahatma Gandhi's rebel-pilgrims, who will begin their campaign of civil disobedience to Great Britain's rule of India on Wednesday, already is on the march. Gandhi's headquarters here announced today.

Passing through villages between Ahmedabad and Borstad, the route of Gandhi's pilgrimage, a party of Indian nationalists is completing arrangements for care of the little "army."
